A single strip of a palm leaf manuscript, showing several lines of handwritten text in the Tamil script. The leaf has two circular holes punched through it for binding. The text is written in a traditional style, typical of historical South Asian manuscripts.

Handwritten text in Tamil script on a palm leaf manuscript. The text is arranged in approximately 10 horizontal lines across the length of the leaf. The script is in an older form of the Tamil language. The leaf is brown and shows signs of age and wear, with several circular holes visible, likely from traditional binding methods. The text is written in a cursive style, typical of historical Tamil manuscripts.
